

March 19, 2018

The Mitchell County Commissioners met in formal session on Monday, March 19, 2018 at 8:30 a.m. in the Commissioner's Room of the Mitchell County Courthouse. Present were Chairman Tom Claussen and Mike Cooper. Jim Marshall was absent. Also present was Terry Bailey, KVSV Radio.

The meeting was called to order at 8:30 and the Pledge of Allegiance was recited.

The minutes of the March 19, 2018 meeting were approved as written on motion by Mike Cooper and seconded by Tom Claussen. Motion carried by unanimous vote.

Eric Hamel, EMS Director, stepped in long enough to inform the commissioners that Demars is willing to offer a $10,000 trade-in for the old ambulance. Their asking price for the new ambulance will increase by the end of this month.

The commissioners received an invitation to Becky Davies' retirement reception from 2:00 to 4:00 on April 6th. Becky has been with the county for 27 years.

Becky Snook, Communications Director, asked for the commissioners' approval on a couple conferences she has coming up this year. These conferences are paid for by the 911 tax money. She will have an APCO International conference in Las Vegas in August, and she has applied for a $500 scholarship to cover travel expenses. She will also volunteer 2 four-hour sessions at the conference which will give her $100 to put towards expenses. In June she will be attending a National Emergency Number Association (NENA) conference in Nashville. The commissioners gave her their approval.

Cortney Murrow from County Health came in needing signatures for some state grants. She said she will be attending CLC training in Junction City the last week of April, which is funded by these grants. She also said she spoke with John at the hospital about purchasing a generator for the Health Dept. building. He suggested she speak to the hospital board about this.

At 9:30 a.m. Mike Cooper made a motion to adjourn the meeting. Motion was seconded by Tom Claussen. Motion carried by unanimous vote.
